Georgia Democrats Gather in Macon, Reaffirm Fealty to Party

STATE DEMOCRATS AT MACON CHEER LASHING ASSAULT

G. O. P., From Hamilton to Hoover, Subjected to National Convention.

SPEAKER ACCLAIMS ROOSEVELT, GARNER

Smashing Victory in Noford-Hamilton Contest Referred to Convention.

> BY R. E. POWELL, Staff Correspondent

MACON, Ga., Oct. 4.-Up and down, back and forth, criss-cross and see-saw wise-from the original sin of Alexander Hamilton to the current blunder of Herbert Hoover-United States Senator Alben W. Barkley tonight blistered the republican party for the separate and cumulative blights he charged it with having inflicted upon the country, par ticularly during the last 12 years.

The Kentucky senator, who smashed a precedent by winning a second-term nomination to the senate, was in fine form for the speech to 4,700 Georgia democrats who whooped with the fervor of crusaders as he told of the faults of the opposition and outlined the principal planks upon which the democrate expect to elect Roosevelt and Garner in November.

Barkley was the chief speaker at a democratic rally in Macon's mammoth cave, the municipal auditorium, as delegates and visitors to the biennial convention gathered here tonight for the meeting tomorrow which will ratify the nominees chosen in the primary of September 14. Lawrence S. Camp, retiring chairman, presided, and Senator Walter F. George, presented Barkley as the great audience cheered. Senator Walter F. Committee Greets Barkley. Barkley arrived in Macon about 4 clock with Governor Richard B. Russell Jr. and went directly to the Dempsell Jr. and went directly to the Dempsey hotel, where a committee of state-wide democrats greeted him. Just a few minutes before police had been forced to clear a line in front of the Lanier hotel for Eugene Talmadge, governor-designate, and Hugh Howell, incoming p. ty chairman, to enter.

Macon, with welcome signs out, greeted the delegates—most of them agriculturists—with the well-known holiday, not just another convention, down here.

Everybody had a happy salutation for anybody who looked like he came from some other place. It was a holiday, not just another convention.

Some formalities, as anticipated, preceded the great rally tonight, Among them the retiring democratic state committee passed on to the new committee—which begins to function tomorrow—the matter of the Ledford-Hamilton contest over the nomination of a state treasurer. a state treasurer.

Young democrats were in abundance at all the hotels. They had a lunch-Continued in Page 6, Column 6.

"Come down here and we'll show you a thing or two," came another cry. And another: "You won't get our votes. Herbie."

The demonstration, starting half-heartedly, grew like a rolling snown mules at the head of the passome 2.500 participants. Shouting, jeering, hooting and joking by turns, the farm folk staged a colorful and tumultuous expression of their disatisfaction with the administration's handling of farm problems.
There was nothing that could be termed disorder, although the farmers did not curb their tongues. When the parade passed under a huge painting of the president suspended over the busy intersection at Sixth and Locust streets, hundreds shouted derisively.

"Don't fell us what you're going to LONDON, Oct. 4.—(P)—Dispatches from Dublin to London newspapers today reported rumors which, however, could not be confirmed, that President De Valera does not intend to nominate a successor to former Lieutenant Governor McNeill, who resigned yesterday, and that the Free State planned to cut away entirely.

MEXICO EXPELS PAPAL DELEGATE

Monsignor Branded 'Pernicious Foreigner' as Aftermath of Encyclical

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 4.—(P)—Archbishop Leopoldo Ruiz y Flores, papal delegate to Mexico, boarded an airplane today and started for the United States border in obedience to a presidential decree expelling him from the country on the ground that he was a "pernicious foreigner."

With the pope's representative went two agents of the department of interior and Carlos Corte, a relative.

The archbishop remarked only that it was the first time he ever had been in an airplane. It was understood his route lay via San Luis Potosi and that the border would be crossed at Laredo or Brownsville.

The expulsion order was issued by President Abelardo Rodriguez in conformity with a resolution adopted by the chamber of deputies.

A delegation from the chamber called upon the president this afternoon to present formally the request that the pope's representative be compelled to leave, and the president informed them that he already had dictated an order to that effect.

At 5 o'clock this morning Monsignor Ruiz y Flores was awakened and nor Ruiz y Flores was awarened and taken by government agents to the office of the secretary of the interior. He was requested to remain there while the chamber's demand for his expulsion was being considered. It was believed likely that the mon-

ENOUGH TURKISH BUT NOT TOO MUCH -and just enough of them!

Turkish tobacco sometimes runs hundreds of little leaves to the pound. In cigarettes it is used much as seasoning is in food, for flavor and better taste.

You know that seasoning has to be used right ... just enough of it, not too much. .

Chesterfield puts in just the right amount of Turkish tobacco-the best kinds-Xanthi, Cavalla, Smyrna and Samsoun. These are not merely blended, but cross-blended with ripe, mellow Domestic tobaccos.

Enough Turkish, not too much—that's one reason why Chesterfields taste better -why they have a delicacy of aroma you do not find in other cigarettes.

Hoover Defends Policies Before Iowans in Des Moines Address.

Most of them stood grimly silent. Some booed and shouted for Roosevelt. Even the cheering of the crowd was not so enthusiastic as it had been elsewhere.

The most elaborate precautions taken for protecting a president of the United States in recent years were employed by secret service agents, national guardsmen and police during President Hoover's visit.

Heaviest Guard. In addition to the usual secret service guard the Iowa National Guard lined the streets in solid file the entire length of the parade route along which the president was driven. A force of after the duty here and similar precautions were taken at Rock Island, Ill., where sentries lined the roofs of buildings and occupied other vantage points to protect the president.

Riding in an open car, the president and Mrs. Hoover bowed to acknowledge the applause and apparently ignored the jeers. Surrounding their car was the Fort Des Moines cavalry as the military escort. Between each three cars was an American Legion drum or bugle corps. Army tional Guard brought up the rear.

In his address after the parade President Hoover harked back to the days of the covered wagon to trace his lineage as a native of lowa, and to paint a picture of a boyhood lived amid struggle and poverty.

Terming himself "a son of the soit of this state," the president asserted he was glad "to come back where I was born and where I spent the first 10 years of my boyhood."

Briefly sketching his early life in Iowa, Mr. Hoover approached the most vital topic in the 1932 presidential campaign—that of the economic depression—and recalled to his hearters that it was in Iowa in 1890 that he first came in contact with a depression.

From that point the president worked up to the collateral subjects of credit, currency, gold, bonds, banks, loans and insurance, setting forth the contention that republican-sponsored tariff of 1930 in no wise was responsible for aggravation of the depression. destroy the effectiveness of the tariff commission. I vetoed that bill.

They passed a price-fixing bill creating what might be colloquially called the "rubber dollar." I opposed this. It was held up in the senate. They passed a provision for loans to corporations and everybody else whether they were affected and guarded by public interest or not. It would have made the government the most gigantic pawnbroker of history. I vetoed this measure. They passed other measures with this same reckless disregard for the safety of the nation.

All this undermined public confidence and delayed all the efforts of the administration and the powerful the administration and the powerful instrumentalities which we had placed in action to save the country. These measures representing the dominant democratic control brought discourting the United States. There are a halfcongress in December I laid before it a program of unprecedented dimensions to meet an unprecedented situation.

The battalions and regiments and armies thus mobilized for this great battle turned the tide toward victory by July. The foreigners drew out most of their money, but finding that the American dollar rang honest on every counter, in new confidence they are sending it back. Since June $275,000,000 of gold has flowed back to us from abroad. Hoarders in our wown country, finding our institutions safeguarded, have returned $250,000.000 to the useful channels of business. The securities held by our insurance companies, our savings banks and our benevolent trusts have recognitions and support the same as the securities and the standard controlled house were stopped. Had their program passed it would have been the will end hope of recovery. These measures were not simply gestures for vote-catching. my hearers who are farmers of what is on my mind, of what is in my heart, to tell you the conclusions I have reached from this bitter experience of the years in dealing with these problems which affect agriculture at home lems which affect agriculture at home and their relations to foreign countries.

That agriculture is prostrate needs no prof. You have saved and economized and worked to reduce costs, but with all this, yours is a story of distress and suffering.

What the farmer wants and needs is higher prices, and in the meantime to keep from being dispossessed from his farm, to have a fighting chance to keep his home. The pressing question is how these two things are to be attained. Every decent citizen wants to see the farmer receive higher prices and wants to see him hold his home. Every citizen realizes that the general recovery of the country can not be attained by a bipartisan party.

The first is that many increases of this democratic-controlled before, not after, our farm tariffs were increased. The second is that the restrictions on imports in most cases are not directed at the United States. They are for the purpose of reducing all expenditures of their people during their financial crises. The third is that if we survey the growls of some nations when our tariffs were changed we find their directions. changed we find their objections in overwhelming majority were directed at the increase in our agricultural tariffs. American farmers are entitled to know this. The very object of our seaway as a fundamental relief to agriculture by cheaper transportation. I am glad to report to you that more than twice the amount of work has been done on the waterways in the last three years than in any similar period in the history of the United States. I am also glad to report that after 20 years of discussion, examinations and intermittent negotiation, a treaty has been signed with Canada which only awaits ratification of the United States senate and the dominion parliament for us to undertake that great contribution to the strengthening of inidwest agriculture in reaching out to world markets.

We have suffered from unprecedented drouths in the north and south of you. Some other sections were un-able to obtain credit for seed and feed for live stock. Through various gov ernment agencies loans to the amou of $120,000,000 have been made 900,000 of our families to rehabi tate their production and ameliorate these conditions. Some of these fam-ilies are in difficulties in making im-mediate repayment because of de-moralized prices. I have seen to it that they are not unduly pressed. Last April I delivered an address the conference of the governors of the various states. I stated in effect that the most inflexible tax in our country is the tax on land and on real property. It is the least adaptable to property. It is the least adaptable to the varying incomes of the taxpayers. I stated that in the present situation the taxes upon farms and homes have become almost unbearable, that such taxes are wholly out of proportion to other forms of taxes. I stated then emphatically that there is no farm relief more needed to-meeting, I proposed that we should review the whole relations of our tax system between federal, state and local governments and seek a basis of taxation for each, that would give opportunity for readjustments between in participating in the organization of a world economic conference to be held late this year. Every intelligence the world can command will be concentrated on the rehabilitation of economic stability.

New Debt Policy.

I shall send a representative of agriculture as a member of that world economic conference.

And in connection with agriculture I may mention the question of war debts. I do not approve cancellation of these debts. I certainly do not approve the proposal of our opponents to lower our tariffs in order that by profits gained from a flood of goods into the United States this debt should be transferred to our workers by put-ting them out of employment and to our farmers by forcing their produce our farmers by forcing their produce to rot it their barns.

In my acceptance address I stated the exact reverse of this proposal. I said: "If for some particular anunal payment we are offered some other tangible form of compensation, such as the expansion of markets for American agriculture and labor and the restoration and maintenance of our prosperity, then I am sure our citizens would consider such a proposal."

BERLIN. Oct. 4.—(AP)—Great Britain invited Germany today to send representatives to a four-power conference at London to consider and pave the way for her return to the disarmament conference as Geneva.

The invitation was transmitted verbally by the British charge d'affaires.

I am prepared to go farther. I am prepared to recommend that any annual payment on the foreign debt be used for the specific purpose of securing an expansion of the foreign markets for American agricultural products. There is justice in that, for the difficulties inherited from the war are part of your difficulties today. This is a proposal of more importance to the farmer than any panacea.

The other participants in the conference, it was understood, would be France and Italy, with the United States invited to send an observer.

Germany's reply to the invitation was that she must receive certain guarantees that her demand for arms equality really would be fulfilled.

Without the fulfillment of this demand, the charge d'affaires was informed, it would be futile to hold

You Can't Blame the Car for Going In a Ditch If You Don't Hold the Wheel

-By Robert Quillen -The strangest and saddest thing in human nature is its resentment of sanity when it is perversely bent on playing the fool.

When an individual or a class or a nation is following some course that leads to inevitable disaster, the very fact of being in the wrong makes it intolerant of anybody who would set it right.

We resent another's superiority. If we are wrong and he is right, we cannot quit our wrong way without confessing his superior wisdom.

Therefore we risk our necks to save our vanity and pursue our wrongness more brazenly in a vain effort to prove it right.

Nations do not follow a blueprint. They develop by chance. Their destiny is shaped by selfishness and greed, by customs and standards that develop without guidance, and by mass pursuit of immediate gain.

People resent a warning of danger because they cannot heed it without effort. They wish to continue drifting—and blaming somebody else for what happens. To heed the warning and make a conscious effort to change the course of their civilization would require serious thought ease their consciences by ridiculing thhe kill-joy who tries to save them. Like the itch mite the chigger burrows into the skin, preferably about the toes or the tender skin of feet and legs unaccustomed to exposure. Of course it is the female of the species that causes the trouble. Like Mrs. Acarus she digs in when she is preparing for the coming of her brood of little mites.

If you recognize the nature of the attack before the chiggers get dug in, one of the best remedies is kerosene (coal oil) kept applied for an hour. This kills the insects without too greatly irritating your skin. The kerosene should be kept applied con-stantly, or if it is possible the af-fected surface immersed in it for half an hour or longer. In chigger regions it is necessary to sweep accumulations of dust from walls and floors, and to use insecticide walls and floors, and to use insecticide powder such as pyrethrum freely. The application of odorous lotions to the skin tends to repel chiggers just as it repels mosquitoes. A mixture of equal parts of olive oil, oil of tar. oil of cedar and oil of citronelia makes a good mosquito dope and offers some protection against chiggers.

A drop of turpentine on the spot, or even a quid of chewing tobacco discourages the burrowing propensities of a chigger, but the kerosene treatment is the best all around pulicide, provided the persons using it takes care to avoid proximity to flame.

Samuel Dewey Byrd, a native of Bremen, Ga., was married yesterday in New York to a girl from Birmingham, (Zipp Newman's home town?) Sammy Byrd is one of the Yankees who helped put the Cubs in the 200-1 wonder if the old Confederates in Bremen have forgiven Sammy Byrd for joining the Yankees? He's one Georgian that we seemed to have overlooked in the ballyhoo about native sons-He lives over at Birmingham, too, and the boys over there have muffed him. His wife is an Alabama girl-Seems they were childhood sweethearts-Bremen is near Tallapoosa, Ga.-Which is near the Alabama line-It was just a couple of weeks ago that I stopped in Tallapoosa at a cafe and the fellow there insisted I try chili—He insisted that chili was invented in Tallapoosa—that the boys drive there from the towns around that section to get chili -So I tried some and it was pretty swell at that-I wonder if Sammy Byrd ever drove over from Bremen for a bowl of Tallapoosa chili-I told the fellow that Mexico claimed credit for chili but he said no, that a Judge Somebody in Tallapoosa had invented it years ago-So I didn't argue-Red Ruffling and Lefty Gomez, also members of the Yankees-will marry this week-That series did things to them-Lefty (Goofy) Gomez is to marry the most bee-yooteful girl in the world unless the cameras have been doing tricks-And I don't see how they can call him Goofy-Bill Dickey is another Yank who is to marry-Wonder what Marse Joe McCarthy thinks about all this?-Dickey and Byrd are former Southern league players.

COACH ALEX ENTERTAINS.

Coach William Alexander gave the football reporters a luncheon yesterday. He's kind that way. He knows how to make the boys feel swell. He gets them together and lets them tell all their old stories over again and joins with them in laughing heartily.

The football writers and coaches are very funny people. Because they have a store of stories which never seem to grow old. They are told till dawn in rattling Pullmans. When I was new on the job and pop-eyed in one corner so that not a thing might be missed—I always wondered how the colored porter could drowse outside on his stool with such brilliant conversation going on inside. But now I know. But still I can't sleep. I've got to sit in there now and tell my own. And the porter still drowses outside.

They were talking yesterday about the newspaper man who went with a football team to Dallas, Texas, It seems that the last thing he remembered the night before the game was going up in an elevator. And the next thing he knew he awoke at the home of some convivial friend he had met during the blank and found he was in Fort Worth. I always wondered how he got that taxi back on his expense item.

And there was the time an assistant coach, a very young assistant coach, stole a hound dog at Longview, Texas, and made him a mascot. And when he got to Dallas the dog was fed in the hotel dining room and paraded through the streets by a freshman. And the game was lost. And the freshman tied the dog, with the school colors, to the traffic officer's flag post at the busy corner opposite the Adolphus hotel. And the hound had a contented look in his eyes as if to say, "Come what may come, I've lived. It isn't every hound from Longview, Texas, that gets to eat in the main dining room of a large hotel."

And so the yarns run on-yarns about the great George Gipp—yarns about Rockne—yarns about this player and that —and the hours run on and towns slide by the Pullman windows—the air gets stale with smoke in the drawing room—and gray dawn begins to edge into things. It's quite a life and the conversation is a real part of it.

ONE EXCITING GAME.

45-0 rout of South Carolina in 1930. Conch Alex is still far from satisfied with his offense. He gave the backs with his offense. He gave the backs will now he is concentrating on tackling and covering kicks, but the backs will be seen stepping with the ball plenty ere the week is out. Shorty Roberts, the Austin of the Jacket backfield machinery, will be given more opportunity at carrying the ball.

It was a cold, raw rainy day in December and Athens. A drenched crowd was watching a Georgia Tech team battle Gus Moore Leads a superior Georgia team on even terms; if anything show an npy Thomason's bear was there-with a h over-drinking as many cold bottles of soda water as friends would supply him-some miscreants on the train coming over had given him a bottle—he'd drink anything and had a weakness for strong drink.

Everyone was very damp-ladies were ruining expensive coats—but Tech was making such a gallant bid for the game that none would leave.

On the sidelines a photographer shielded his lens and took a picture of Coach Alexander sending Stumpy Thomason back into the game.

And on Coach Alexander's face is a look of excitement that has never been pictured before. He is the man with steel nerves—the man who never lets an emotion show on his face.

This time he had a chance to beat the team that had won from Yale-and he was sending in the man to do it. The game went on and Georgia won when a tackle, Fats Bryant, picked up a fumble and ran for a touchdown. But the picture remains as evidence.

And yesterday, at a luncheon which Coach Alexander attended with the football reporters, he was asked which game found him most excited. (He does get excited, of course, but he does not let it show.) And that Georgia game in 1929 was selected as the one. I'd never asked him but I knew from that

TECH'S NEXT TEST.

Georgia Tech's next test, with the Kentucky eleven, called the Kentucky Wildcats, should be one of the football games of the year which will fill in several conversational evenings. The game should be close and hot.

Kentucky has a good, big football team which Major Bob Neyland, of Tennessee, thinks is one of the best in the league. But then Major Neyland's estimate jor Bob Neylanu, best in the league. But then Major neymore of his foes is always extremely generous.

At any rate it will show what sort of a football team Georgia Tech has. And I think it will show a rather good football team. The Jackets are doing a lot of old-fashioned work on fundamentals and cohesion of offensive effort.

Which means a lot. That satisfaction with the offense. If a fellow doesn't believe his knife will cut he won't go far in any battle. Which is trite enough but true enough.

THE RETORT COURTEOUS.

Football coaches who find, when the lean seasons come, that their fair weather friends desert them and start suggesting that a new coach is needed, may get a laugh out of that crack cred-Ited to William Fox, the one-time movie master mind.

The story goes that someone asked him what had become of all his friends, whom he had helped to wealth and fame in the days when he had it. "I've been deloused," he said.

GRIMM AND BEAR IT.

The best World Series gag was Dan Parker's.
"The Cubs," he said, "will just have to Grimm and bear it."

Ferguson, Dean, Galloway and Barron Assigned for Job.

By Jimmy Jones.

With a presentiment that kicking may play an important part in Sat-urday's game with Kentucky, all of the men with talented toes on the Georgia Tech squad were summoned into action by the Jacket coaches yes-into action by the Jacket coaches yesterday.

Most of the afternoon's practice, staged under dark and scudding clouds at the old Rose Bowl, was taken up with punting, kicking off and blocking kicks. The reputation of Ralph Kercheval, the Wildcat ace kicker, having penetrated and resounded to the uttermost nook of the conference. Tech is busy laying out preparations for returning or cutting down some of the yardage his gifted foot will give the Blue Grass boys.

Johnny Ferguson, Norris Dean, Pat Barron and Galloway were assigned to the job of kicking the ball downfield yesterday, in the face of some savage rushing from the two freshman tackles, Eubanks and Barbre. Meanwhile the rest of the varsity was charging downfield to cover the kicks. Martin and Boyd, freshmen backs, took considerable battering from the golden avalanche of the varsity while running them back.

BARRON KICKS.

Pat Barron, who was very effective as a kick-off and placement man in prep school, was seen in the former role yesterday. A toe ailment handicaps Barron in this line, but Coach Alex had both Pat and Dean kicking off the 45-yard line. Eddie Laws, the robust guard, has been doing this in games.

Mack Tharpe had several Gray and nicely yesterday. And if the Jack-ets can give him adequate blocking, he may hold his own pretty well with the mighty Kercheval. CHANGES.

CHANGES.

Minor shifts in the third tenm find Phil Slaughter, an end, running in the backfield and Shaw, who has been trying his hand at center, moved back to tackle. John Pool was snapping the ball on the kicks yesterday with Captain Neblett getting a rest.

Some little time was given to the running attack, Chick Galloway getting off a nice sprint through the Grey Devil defense.

With the drafting of Casey Jones, guard, from the Grey Devils, John Corn and Susong have been sent to the hard-working Mack Tharpe as reinforcements for his scrimmage team which will present a semblance of the Kentucky style.

Kentucky style.

Although Tech rolled up more points against Clemson Saturday than a Jacket team has compiled since the 45-0 rout of South Carolina in 1930.

Honesty in Baseball Given Boost in 1932

Yankees Scuttle Cubs; Landis Investigates Gambling; No Punches Pulled in Dixie.

By Jimmy Jones.

Ostensibly the grand old moss-backed spot of baseball is more on the and up now than it has ever been. More than one doubting Thomas has been convinced of this because of certain highly exemplary happenings that transpired during the season just ended.

which, after all, means no more than glory, showed our sports iconoclast a few things. It was more remarkable in that this has not been a good baseball year. Many big league clubs lost money and many players were working on cut salaries.

The minor leagues saw another highly commendable display of this same trait among ball players in the Dixie series between Chattanooga and Beaumont clubs. Probably no league needed the money which would have accused from a longer series more dras-tically than did the Southern and Texas leagues. All clubs in the South-ern get a certain percentage of this intake. But take it from an eye-witness, there were no punches pulled in the Divise

The Chattanooga players fought for every victory with something approaching the idealism of college men. They took four out of the first five games from Beaumont, even contesting bitterly for the lone game that Beaumont won, 1 to 0. This, despite considerable extra-expense that Joe Engel went to in preparing for crowds at Chattanooga, which did not come. Every hand that was moved, every card that was played attested unmistakably to the honesty of baseball in 1932. The Chattanooga players fought

When Commissioner Kenesaw Mountain Landis can waste time to investigate so trivial a circumstance as that of individual ball players betting a few dollars on race horses, the national pastime is above reproach. Even a matter of a postponed game between Chattanooga and Knoxville, upon which the Southern league pennant hung, found Landis hewing close to the line of justice.

It was truly a great season and one which strengthened the hold which baseball now has on the confidence and fancy of the American public.

It's Up to Niehoff Concerning Contract

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Oct. 4.—
(P)—Bert Niehoff will manage the Chattanooga Southern association baseball team next year—if he wants to, President Joe Engel said today.
Engel said he always asked his managers to shop around and see if they could better themselves before offering them another contract. "Bert may find a better job." Engel said, but indicated the contract would be ready later if Bert wanted to sign.
Niehoff led Chattanooga to its first Southern association pennant this past season and also its first Dixie series championship, winning over Beaumont of the Texas league.

ATHENS, Ga., Oct. 4.—Harry Mehre, head coach of the Georgia Bulldogs, must have a great deal of sympathy for old man Diogenes, who spent his life searching for an honest man, for Harry's search for his football team has so far proved fruitless.

Coach Mehre's Bulldogs who Saturday must meet a Tulane team better than the conference champions of last fall, disintegrated into eleven young men who seemed to have no interest in football or anything else today. The Red Devils, supposedly so much inferior to the varsity, gave them a licking when they put on the Tulane plays, and the freshmen, after a shaky start, mixed the varsity up considerably when the Bulldogs went on offense against them.

Some hew faces appeared in the Bulldog lineup today. But even they could seemingly do no good against a Red Devil team that persisted in driving down the field with Tulane plays. In the Red Devil backfield were two youngsters who weigh under 160 pounds, and one young man, who CAN'T STOP PLAYS.

The Tulane plays worked well against the Bulldogs. The Red backs galloped around end, smashed through the middle of the line and off-tackle with seeming abandon. There were times when the Bulldogs reared back and stopped them cold but those occasions were so few and far between as to be worthy of little comment. Harry Mehre, could not help thinking what Tulane will do to his Bulldogs, who can't even stop young men who never practiced the Tulane plays until yesterday.

When it came to offense the boys went like a house afire for the first four plays. Then they called it a day and after that they battled the freshmen on fairly even terms. The Bulldog plays could not get anywhere against the freshmen and again Harry Mehre groaned as he thought of what Tulane's big and experienced line was likely to do to those plays Saturday. Apparently it made no difference who was in the Bulldog lineup today. Coach Mehre substituted his linemen and backs around quite frequently, trying to find a combination that would look like the football team the Bulldogs should be. Yet the Bulldogs remained in the lethargy they went into Saturday when they lost to a team they were supposed to beat by three touchdowns. It was a dismal afternoon for the Georgia coaches, who have done their best to get some spirit into the squad.

ALL SCRIMMAGE. ALL SCRIMMAGE.

Practically the entire Bulldog squad went into the scrimmage today. Some of the boys turned in good performances individually, yet as a team they were not functioning with the celat and the spirit that they should possess. The Bulldogs seemed to be a team with an inferiority complex. They are not out there fighting every step of the way with the pep of which they are capable should they ever get wise to themselves.

"You saw it, so draw your own conclusions," was the only comment Coach Mehre had after today's practice. It was not very hard to draw some very gloomy conclusions from the way the Bulldogs looked in today's scrimmage.

Says No Player Will Be Sold or Traded Before End of Season.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 4.—(A)—Connie Mack, lean-visaged manager of the Philadelphia Athletics, termed himself a failure today, denied reports he planned to break up the team, and declared he is through with player deals that would make strong clubs stronger.

In a statement of the A's future policy, Mack asserted the membership of the former world's championship team will remain as it is until the close of the 1933 season.

"No player who belongs to the club at present will be sold or traded to a major league club until the close of next season," the veteran manager declared. "Theu if any player is sold or traded it will be to an American league club in the sixth, seventh or eighth position in the standings.

"None of the five ranking clubs in the league will ever be able to buy or trade with me for a player us long as I'm a manager."

Then he kept a promise to explain his surprise sale of Al Simmons, Jimmy Dykes and "Mule" Haas to the Chicago White Sox, a deal announced last week in New York. Financial reasons, he said, were responsible "in a way" for the sale.

"We went into the red, heavily, he said. "We had one of the highest salaried clubs in the league, including even the Yankees with Bate Ruth's $75,000, and our attendance figures were far below those of last year."

"I feel also that I've oeen a failure—not in playing results, but financially." he added. "And that failure forced me to sell those players. Any man who can't make both ends meet must be a failure. And I didn't make ends meet for the A's."

Connie had nothing but praise for the three players just sold.

Discussing prospects for next season, Connie predicted he would have "a great bail club."

"I don't think it'll be a cinch for any club—even the Yanks—to run away wish the next pennant."

The Fast Getaway.

Football hasn't wasted any great amount of time in warming up. For example, Michigan and Northwestern come to grips next Saturday in one of the most decisive games of the Western conference, with the confer-veterans back.

But Princeton has been given little breathing space with Columbia, Cornell, Navy and Michigan coming in order. And at least three of these teams are among the best in their sectors. The Navy hasn't looked so hot at this point, but Columbia, Cornell and Michigan carry a lot of stuff with an average display of promised strength somewhat higher than usual. This, at least, is true of Michigan. Columbia and Cornell are just as good as they were last fall. And they were good last fall.

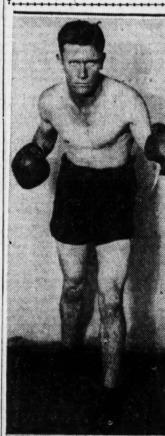

The Return.

Miracles still happen. Somewhere around 45 years ago there was a young end at Yale who happened to be a stand-out in his day. He was picked on the first All-American nam-ed by Caspar Whitney and Walter Camp.

Coach Robertson To Take 25 Players for Game With Xavier.

"From 1926 to 1932 more than 682,000 farms were sold under mortgage or for delinquent taxes which their owners were unable to pay.

The speaker then took up the Hawley-Smoot tariff, passed as the second measure of the republican party to relieve the agricultural distress.

"The second so-called gemedy for the farm situation was the same remedy always applied by the leadership of the republican party," he reminded his hearers. "Regardless of the nature or the cause of the malady the remedy always was to increase the tariff, which is forever mounting and each year is higher than it ever has each year is higher than it ever has been before in American history. "Failures Are Apparent."

"In 1928 neither political party and neither candidate for president promneither candidate for president promised or threatened a general revision of the tariff. The republican spokesmen, boasting as usual of their infallibility in the matter of prosperity, claimed that the tariff of 1922 had produced it. But when Mr. Hoover called the congress together his first recommendation was that the tariff be increased. Some of it was done under the forms of law, but in violation of every sound principle of honest government. This era of debauchery is too fresh in the minds of the people to need further description or comment.

"The Coolidge administration which followed it is referred to by ponderous republican leaders as the age of golden silence, the age of Coolidge prosperity. It matters little to them that during all the years from 1921 to 1928 unemployment was increasing; that agriculture was sinking steadily but surely into economic depths not hitherto known in the United States. It matters little to them that there has never been, and can never be, any real or permanent prosperity in this nation so long as agriculture, its basic and fundamental activity, languishes and declines. To them prosperity meant the inflation of the stock market. It meant the

Mrs. Stevens Speaks.

A former Adantan, Mrs. T. T. Stevens, and a former president of Atlanta Federation, under whose regime a wealth of constructive and illuminating achievements materialized, was accorded hearty welcome as a visitor. For several years Mrs. Stevens has been spending her winters in Miami. Fla., where she was elected to the important post of president of Dade County Federation, an office from which she recently retired with a brilliant record. She expects to return to Miami next week to complete plans to entertain delegates attending the Southeastern Council of General Federation of Women's Clubs, of which Mrs. M. E. Judd, of Dalton, is president of Women's Clubs, of which Mrs. M. E. Judd, of Dalton, is president which convense in Miami in November. Mrs. Stevens being the general chairman for the convention, extended invitation to members of Atlanta Federation to attend the council meeting to be held in Miami November 13, with the Hayana Woman's Club as hostes organization.

Mrs. Stevens praised the consecuted work of Mrs. John K. She spoke of the debt Georgia clubwomen owed Mrs. Ottley, for not oaly carrying forward her work for Tallulah, but for planning so wisely for the future welfare of the children and the school, in raising the standard of the school and placing it in the front ranks of mountain schools in America.

Miss Katharine Lanier, representative from the College of Agriculture, and chairman for the utilization of Georgia products, stated that sweet potato week will be launched on October 14, and that recipes for using this product to the best advantage will be available during the week specified. She urged that clubwomen prepare Georgia products in attractive containers, and to utilize every product raised in the state.

"Awfully sporting."
"Well, it panned out all right. I've got a good job at Mr. Price's."
Enlightment came to Tony.
"Oh, you work at Syd's shop?"
"Yes, I'm a manicure, Do you know Mr. Price'?"

"Yes. I'm a manicure. Do you know Mr. Price?"

"Known him for years."

"Of course. You would, wouldn't you, working here, I suppose he comes here a lot."

"Praity often. His mother was Lord Droitwich's nurse."

"I know. It's funny to think that he and Lord Droitwich were babies together. There must have been a time when you couldn't tell them apart. And now, there's Mr. Price in a barbershop, and Lord Droitwich in this wonderful house. ." She broke off. "Say, listen! Won't you get into trouble, bringing me in here?"

"Of course not."

"Well, you know, I suppose. I should have thought. ." said Tony. "I wasn't fair," said the girl. "I know. I'm sorry."

"Listen." She said. "Who are you? You don't talk a bit like an ordinary chauffeur."

"Good evening, your lordship," said the voice of Ma Price behind them. She hiccoughed decorously. "I've been looking for you everywhere."

The girl had jumped up. She was evening the recipient of her unguarded confidences reproachfully.

FRIENDLY COUNSEL BY CAROLINE CHATFIELD

Problems of general interest submitted by readers will be discussed in this column. Correspondence invited. Your name held in confidence. Write Miss Chatfield, care The Atlanta Constitution.

DEAR MISS CHATFIELD: We are two factory girls that work in the factory where there are lots of boys. We are able to make friends among them but we cannot keep them. The other girls always take them away from us. We get so blue about this that we have decided to seek advice. Tell us how and why we fail.

TWO BLONDES.

ANSWER:

You factory girls are not the only ones that have this difficulty. Not long ago a society woman in the biggest city in America formed an organization with the avowed purpose of changing the social customs at dances so the wall-flower debutantes could leave their seats into which the neglectful men had forced them. She said a girl's whole life could be shadowed by the humiliating experience of going to a dance and being left alone in her seat while her friends and companions were the center of a big group of admiring men that fought for the privilege of dancing with them. She proposed to arrange the program in such a way that each man would dance with as many girls as the hours permitted so the girls would all share and share alike to the fun of the party. Mind you these are professional society people whose one end and aim in life is social success.

No doubt this effort to apportion the men to the maids would give the wall-flowers a much desired fling. But the dance over and each of them re-turned to her home, each would face the same problem as before: the prob-lem of catching and holding the in-terest of the males. Social life being a side issue with your parents, work side issue with your parents, work being the main issue, you have no one to help you work out your social salvation. But I mention this departure of the city society people to show you that in all the walks of life young girls are eager for the atten-tion of the boys and that they measure their happiness by the degree of suc-cess they have in attracting them and holding them. It is a perfectly nat-ural and normal ambition, as proven by the fact that it is universally felt and expressed, this ambition to be desired, to be sought, to be wooed

To recognize the ambition as natural and normal doesn't answer the question as to how it may be realized any more than recognizing hunger as a natural desire tells us how and where to find the food. The hunger sends us out to look for it and to work for the money to have it with and granting that to buy it with, and granting that we are hungry enough we will work and buy and eat.

There are certain elementary rules

West's Opening lead was the heart King, which held the trick. At this point, unless West made the proper shift and led the correct card of the proper suit, his cause would be lost permanently, as he could see that after he got in with his spade King he probably was through for the day. With a set-up club suit with his own King caught in the middle staring him in the face, he could count on but one spade, one diamond and one heart that girls may follow in an effort to attract the boys. These are some of them. Always look your best, and to look your best you must be neat, and clean and dainty. If you want to know what store the boys set py daintiness just watch the girls around you. Nine times out of ten the popular girl is the one that makes the most of her physical attractions and makes up as far as she can for her physical deficiencies. Of course there are instances where by sheer force of that indefinite quality we call personal magnetism a girl can draw the boys to her without any external or artificial aids, but you two girls patently have not that sheer force, so you must make the best of the qualities that you do have.

Outstanding among the various state mission programs arranged by the Baptist women of Georgia will be the meeting Thursday, October 6, at the First Raptist Church of Decatur, when Mrs. A. F. McMahon, secretary of the B. W. M. U. of Georgia, will be the speaker.

Mrs. M. Dawson, program chairman, announces that the all-day meeting will begin at 10 o'clock, the morning devotional being given by Mrs. P. S. Heifner. A number of local women will take part on the program. Dr. and Mrs. J. C. Quarles, missionaries from Argentina, will be luncheon guests of the Decatur W. M. S.

Youth loves laughter. Boys like the girls that laugh with them. I know hard work and disappointment tend to dry up the springs of merriment. hard work and disappointment to dry up the springs of merriment. But you mustn't let it happen. If you are blue about your failure to hold your boy-friends you must refuse to acknowledge it to yourself and to each other. You know how the damper works on a wood stove. You know how the damper works on a piano. You can deaden the vibrations by applying it. You girls can deaden your vibrations by permitting yourselves to brood over your inability to hold your friends.

Don't stick so close together that the boys think you are an indivisible unit instead of separate entities. A boy might fancy one of you and stay away because he didn't fancy the other. This is not a suggestion to fracture your friendship but just a suggestion to separate occasionally when you are with the boys.

Lastly, try to cultivate some littl harmless flirtatious ways, that always invite the interest of the boys. You can make your eyes issue the best sort of invitations. You can give the most eloquent response with the eyes to the questioning glance of boy. Anna Held, comedienne of the ast generation, set a whole nation to talking about her and filled her thea talking about her and filled her thea-ter for the length of a record run with a song called "I Just Can't Make My Eyes Behave." When she illus-trated her song with her misbehaving eyes the men went wild with delight and her stage manager, the famous Florenz Ziegfeld, married her.

But remember that flirtatious ways carried too far are vulgarizing. So long as you do your flirting with your eyes you are safe, but when you begin to employ the other senses you are treading on dangerous ground, ground that may cave in with you and leave you in the worst slough any girl can fall into.

A Good Defensive Play

The opportunity for sheer brilliancy at cards is presented most frequently to him who is defending a game bid at Contract Bridge. It is true that Contract offers opportunities for brilliant bids, brilliant end-plays by Declarer, and so on: but it is the man on the defense, who does not see his partner's hand, who has the best chance to make a play that would bring a gallery to its feet, cheering wildly.

The Declarer sees both his hand and the Dummy, and therefore knows the sum total of the strength that is out against him, although he is not quite sure as to how it is divided. The man on the defense knows half of his team's strength, but he cannot coordinate his plan of attack—or rather, directly and the diamond of the diamond of the emery's strength, but he cannot coordinate his plan of attack—or rather, diameted the diamond of the diamond of the diamond of the defense knows half of his team's strength but he cannot coordinate his plan of attack—or rather, diameted the diamond of the di team's strength and half of the enemy's strength, but he cannot co-ordinate his plan of attack—or rather, defense—as readily as the Declarer. The defense must be based on much finer and much more subtle deductions than those of Declarer. His movements must be more daring and perfectly timed. He must be willing to take a shot in the dark, or to gamble all on one bold stroke. It is only at the start of a hand that he has the element of time in his favor, and if he ever loses it by not taking full advantage of it at that moment, it is permanently lost. On the hand given below, South was Declarer at a four spade contract, which West doubled. Neither side vulnerable.

SEVERAL COMBINATIONS.

In due time, in Florida, he probably will enter a discussion about 1933 salary terms with Colonel Jacob Ruppert. The Babe took a $5,000 "cut" last spring, signing for $75,000 for the home run championship to Jimmie Foxx, of the Aathletics, due partly to two periods of illness, Ruth had a good year. The consensus is he will not likely be asked to sign for less than $65,000 or

This set will work together lots this week as Wynne is still undecided upon his regular back-

It has been impossible for Wynne to learn much about his backs in the two games with Birmingham-Southern and Erskine, neither of which offered the Bengals much opposition, although both fought hard throughout the 30 minutes of company as Authors will minutes of combat. As Auburn will need its best crew of backs against Duke, Coach Wynne will run several groups together before listing his starters Saturday at Legion field in starters Saturday at the Magic City. Two scrimmages before the team entrains for Birmingham Friday morning should facilitate the Bengal skipper in selecting his POWERFUL RUNNER.

Talley, a Decatur, Ga., junior who did not come up to expectations last year, stands a good chance of remaining at fullback in the most powerful ball-carrying set Wynne can muster against Duke. He scored muster against Duke. He scored twice against Erskine, showing an effective stiff-arm, a fine change of pace and more speed than he did as a sophomore. That was the custom of those times in many cases. Before the game with Illinois to referee or umpire the Chicago-Illinois game.

Imagine a Harvard, Yale, California, Notre Dame or Army coach being asked to referee one of the big battles by one of the leading rivals of today. It isn't a question of anyone's fairness being in doubt. It merely shows how far away the old-time informality has slipped.

It is only natural that Stagg would like to make the best possible showing in the old home college town. But in one way he had a tough break in following the Bates tie. That sudden jolt should steam up the Bulldog amazingly. It was the type of shock that usually lifts a good team to its feet in a hurry, and Yale has the material for one of her best squads.

Stagg's return to New Haven turfafter an absence of 45 years will be one of the sentimental features of the season—a record breaker in the way of gathering time and eliding the season—a record breaker in the way of gathering time and eliding the sold guard neither surrenders nor dies.

Yet Michigan put on an attack powerful enough to score 25 points, with a defense that refused to budge. #### OTHER WITNESSES, If You Believe in Insurance, Why Not an Accident Policy?

Do you believe in insurance?

The answer of course is "Yes."
Right now you are carrying life insurance perhaps—an excellent thing—and you think enough of it to pay a pretty good sum to keep it in force. Then by every process of logic that causes you to follow this course, you should be interested in The Constitution's offer to its readers between the ages of 15 and 69 of the famous travel accident policy of the old reliable North American Accident Insurance Company.

Don't skip or jump any spaces, just move one space at a time, from any letter to any adjacent or touching letters in any direction! Simple, isn't it?

You do not need a dictionary to win first prize of $1,500!

Mail in the coupon for your copy of the Official Lucky Star word list which contains all the words to be formed from the star. Words not in this list will not count.

Read These Instructions Carefully

Form as many words as possible from the letters in the star. Start with any letter and move one square at a time, as many times as desired, to any adjacent or contiguous letter IN ANY DIRECTION; that is, upward, downward, sideways, and/or diagonally. (A letter is adjacent or contiguous to another when the spaces occupied touch each other either on the sides or at the corners. S-32 is adjacent or contiguous to S-20, T-21, I-22, T-33, E-43, P-42, and A-41. However, it is not adjacent to E-31, because it is separated from the latter by a blank space.) Do not skip or jump any letters or spaces. For example, starting in with S-32, we can form the following simple words and many others:

(a) S-32, T-21, A-12, T-21, E-11 spells STATE (b) S-32, I-22, T-21, E-11 spells SITE (c) S-32, T-33, E-43, E-51, R-44
(d) S-32, E-43, A-34, T-33
(e) S-32, P-42, I-50, R-44, E-43
(f) S-32, A-41, P-40
As you will observe in example (a) above, the same letter may be used more than once in a word, but do not double any letter. In example (c) above, we have used two E's, E-43 and E-51, to make the word STEER, because at this place in the star, we have two adjacent squares, each containing the letter E. But we cannot start with S-32 and make the word STEEP by doubling up E-43, thereby using the same space twice in succession in the same word. When you have formed all the word you can starting with any given letter in the star, then start with another letter, and so forth, and you will be surprised how

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—(P)—Advances had their turn in the stock market today, but the rally was feebly pushed and closing prices were irregular.

Trading was just as listless as for almost a fortnight back, although turnover of 1,230,710 shares represented some improvement over Monday. over of 1,239,710 shares represented some improvement over Monday. Plainly, 'The market lacked incentive. At one time leading equities moved up 1 to 2 points, chiefly on the good showing made by cotton and firmness of wheat. But the former commodity failed to fulfill early promises, losing most of its rise. Stocks also slid off during the last hour.

Net changes were almost entirely fractional, so evenly distributed that the Standard Statistics - Associated Press composite closed unchanged. Farm implement issues were fairly

Foreign Markets BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

LONDON—Business on the stock exchange today was slack. It was thought that new lasues such as the Australian loan would attract attention from glit-edged securities, some of which effeed due to lack of support. Paris favorites improved in the afternoon and trans-Atlantic shares also hardened. The closing was quiet.

PARIS—Uncertainty over the international situation affected prices on the bourse. Rentes opened irregularly but sporadic buying later helped to advance prices and the market closed firm.

BERLIN—The boerse opened hesitatingly and prices later dropped a few points. These losses were parity regained and the closing was fairly well sustained, with quotations still below the best.

Grain Letters.

FENNER, BEANE & UNGERLEIDER.
CHICAGO, Oct. 4.—Ignoring easier Liverpool cables, our opening was firm, encouraged by higher stocks and cotton and in spite of liberal realising and selling against offers held persistently strong throughout the latter part of the day. Winnipeg was steady early but failed to follow our late advance because of hedging pressure resulting, from sustained heavy country marketings, today's figures being well over 4,000,000 bushels. Buenos Aires was firm and Liverpool steady at the close, although Broomball said there was pressure of offerings at lower prices of new crop shipment from Australia and Argentine. There is a general feeling the president's message will be constructive and that we may expect broader trade in consequence.

tone until the last 15 minutes when the market reacted sharply, probably due to professional selling.

**NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—There was a rallying tendency during much of today's trading, influenced apparently to a considerable extent by an advance in wheat, but in the last half hour early gains were lost and there was little change in the averages.

**Believe it is atill advisable to go light and keep trading positions stopped below the lows of last week, until volume develops to indicate a move that will carry through in one direction or the other.

**DOBBS & CO.**

**NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—The market again failed to have any definite trend during today's seasion, and volume remained low at 1,200,000 shares. Immediately after the opening the market firmed up and at one time the Dow-Jones industrial averages showed an advance of 1.16, but selling came in the last hour and they showed a net loss of 5c on the day. However, we note that support has appeared every time the averages get in the 76-71 level.

**We believe that there will be a definite frend and that the market will not remain within this narrow range very long. It may be that something in President Hoover's appectable effect on prices unless a general work will not remain the three will be so constructive that public participation will again come into the market. We still lean to the with the month, and would not be surprised to see this move start at any time.

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 4.—Speculative buying of cotton in the Liverpool market on rains in the south account for Liverpool cables 4 to 6 penny points better than due and the local cotton market responded by opening 5 to 12 points up and continued upward until it had gained about 25 points from the previous close during the first two hours, due mostly to the weather map showing much rain in the belt overnight and the official forecast predicting frost in the northwest portion of the belt. A report from west Texas today says that a section has lost a third of its prospects since last government report. It looks now as if there might be considerable short covering prior to the report. Some hedge selling and profit-taking developed in the afternoon and the market declined further, closing with net gains of 2 to 8 points.

CHICAGO, Oct. 4.—There was no material pressure on the wheat market today and scattered commission house buying in small lots resulted in a higher average of prices. Part of the buying was regarded as evening up for President Hoover's speech which will be delivered at Des Moines tonight. CHICAGO, Oct. 4.—(A)—Corn took the lead today in a grain price advance that hoisted corn and wheat each more than a cent a bushel.

Corn closed firm, 3-4 to 1 1-8 above yesterday's finish, wheat 1-2 to 1 up, oats at 1-8 to 3-8 gain and provisions trarying from 5 cents decline to a rise of 2 cents.

Wheat gave evidence of having been at least temporarily oversold. There was a noticeable letup in spread trading between Chicago and Winnipeg. New York stock market upturns were helpful to wheat bulls. And so, too, were railroad reports that domestic winter wheat acreage southwest would be curtailed owing to dry weather. Oats moved up with corn and wheat. Provisions were steadied by firmness of grains.

WHEAT STOCKS.

Improvement in wheat prices immediately found reflection in an increased inquiry for the so-called wheat stocks, shares of companies which would benefit from higher prices for that staple by reason of the increased purchasing power of their customers.

Montgomery Ward, which has been attracting attention because of firmness throughout the recent irregularity, continued to be a favorite at higher prices.

International Harvester was in better inquiry and rumor said that the Mellon interests had appeared in the market as buyers of the shares.

J. I. Case Threshing Machine also was in better demand at higher quotations. Most of the buying, however, was professional.

Adoption of the five-day week in all its plants in the United States and Canada was announced today by Procter and Gamble, manufacturers. Sugar, Coffee, Rice.

NEW YORK. OCFFE.

NEW YORK. OCT. 4.—Coffee was higher today on trade and outside buying prompted by the sale of farm board coffee at prices somewhat higher than were expected in trade circles.

This factor offset the probability of an early reopening of the port of Santos and a resumption of coffee shipment from there, which brought about a weakness at the opening. No. 7 contracts opened 4 to 15 lower and closed 5 to 11 ligher. Sales 1,000. Santos opened 7 to 19 lower and closed 10 to 19 higher. Sales 20,000. Closing quotations: No. 7 contracts. was in better demand at higher quotations. Most of the buying, however, was professional and selling orders came from the same sources on the late sell-off from the best figures.

A better inquiry for Montgomery Ward also was attributed to reports that the September sales of that company as well as those of Sears-Roebuck would show a substantial increase over those for August when announced later this week.

GENERAL MOTORS.

Aggressive selling appeared in General Motors and Du Pont in the last hour. Offerings were accompanied by unfavorable rumors with regard to earnings of the former for the third quarter of this year, while bear pressure seemed to be aggressive on Du Pont, which has a very large investment in General Motors.

Public utilities showed a somewhat stronger undertone and rumors wefe current that the figures for electrical output for the last week would make a favorable comparison with those for the preceding week.

BY CLAUDE A. JAGGER.

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—(P)—Speculative activity was at low ebb in the curb market today. Sales approximated 150,000 shares.

An early wave of buying, apparently principally of professional origin, gave the list a better appearance than it has had in most recent sessions, but activity failed to broaden and earlier gains were cut in half or more. At the close, price changes were irregular. regular.

1,000 MEN BACK AT WORK
IN NORTH CAROLINA
WINSTON-SALEM, N. C., Oct. 4.
(A)—Idle for more than a month. 1,200 employment was swelled by approximately 1,000 people today when the last of the state's important tobacco markets openedt heir auction season.
Starting of sales at Winston-Salem,
Reidsville, Mount Airy, Burlington,
Mebane, Stoneville and Madison left the Asheville burley market the only one in the state not yet in operation, and brought the total of active markets to more than 30.

The markets, opening today are on the North Carolina old belt. New bright belt and border markets opened several weeks ago.

1,200 RETURN TO WORK

HUNTINGTON, W. VA.

HUNTINGTON, W. Va., Oct. 4.—

(F)—Idle for more than amonth, 1,200

workmen were back at work today in the Chesapeake & Ohio railroad shops here. Approximately 1,000 were put to work in the locomotive shops, 120 in the car shops and 100 in the stores department for indefinite periods.

UNFILLED ORDERS GAIN.

DETROIT, Oct. 4.—With unfilled orders far in advance of last year's figure and field inventories very substantially lower than in 1931, Kelvinator Corporation began its new fiscal year on October 1 in an enviable position, according to George W. Mason, president.

Interest in the oils has waned, but fairly steady prices prevailed as a resist of reports a firmer hand may be placed on the problem of production curtailment. Standard of Indiana was unchanged. Gulf yielded a fraction. Humble Oil was up more than a point.

An early movement lifted Electric Bond & Share and American Gas 2 points or so, but the utility stocks also turned lethargic in the later dealings. At the close, Electric Bond & Share, American Gas & Electric, United Light & Power "A" and Cities Service were up fractionally.

Deere & Co. closed a scant fraction lower.

AUGUSTA, Ga., Oct. 4.—(P)—George Frauklin, general manager of the Aiken Mills, Inc., today announced that 300 men in the Horse Creek Valley textile area of South Carolina would return to work Monday morning when the Langley plant of the mills resumes operation after being idle six months.

Franklin added that the mill would open for day work only, but that the Franklin added that the mill would open for day work only, but that the night shift might start before winter. The double shift would mean full normal capacity for the mill. Mills in the upper valley, operated under Lanier Branson, president, recently resumed full-time work, while other mills in the lower valley were re-opened some time ago.

She could not have escaped the vixen's on the edge of the crowd. Shricking, a huge wom- wrath had not Usanga, noting the interruption, an ran toward the girl, meaning literally to tear come lurching forward to question her. "What de you want?" he cried, "food and drink?"

'Come with me!" he said, and throwing an arm about Olga he dragged her toward the circle. "No!" she cried, "I want Naratu! Where is she?" quick, fearful glances about, for he was in mor-tal dread of his wife.

But being assured that Naratu had noticed nothing suspicious in his actions, Usanga ordered the warrior who was still holding the infuriated female from the girl, to take Olga back to her hut and remain there on guard over her.

It was designed especially to suit the larger woman.

It has a most attractive neckline. The frilled collar, impressive of surplice styling, narrows of the bodice breadth. Note the smart waistline treatment, with horizontal pin tucks at one side, with wrapped, buttoned closing opposite.

The long panelled line, front and back, gives height to the figure. It combines a novelty crepe in winered tones with plain wine-red crepe. You'll like it too in black blistered crepe satin with the dull side of the crepe used for contrast.

Style No. 897 is designed for sizes 36, 38, 40, 42, 44 and 46 inchès bust. Size 36 requires 3 1-4 yards 39-inch contrasting.
